

A three-tiered silver serving stand is the central focus, holding a variety of pastries. The top tier features a colorful assortment of small pastries, including one with blueberries and another with pink frosting. The middle tier holds two golden-brown scones. The stand is set on a dining table with a white tablecloth. In the background, there are teal-colored candle holders with lit white candles, a white teapot, and a vase of pink flowers. The overall atmosphere is warm and elegant.
